

The Heraldry Society

The Heraldry Society's Corporate Heraldry Award recognises a private or public sector corporate body – either at home or overseas – for the varied and effective use of their legitimate grant of arms in promoting themselves and their activities.

Nominations should be submitted by 31 October in the year of the Award to The Heraldry Society's Awards Co-ordinator – to whom all other communications should also be addressed – at: awards@theheraldrysociety.com.

Nominations and their supporting evidence must be presented in a non-returnable portfolio; any three-dimensional objects included as evidence must be accompanied by return postage.

The CORPORATE HERALDRY AWARD

Shortly after the closing date, a panel of experienced heraldists considers all the submissions to find that which, in the panel's view, most clearly meet their criteria which include –

- That the arms have been legitimised by the relevant authority.
- That the arms identify a corporate body.
- That the accompanying evidence demonstrates the variety of usage of the arms and the manner in which that celebrates the corporate body and promotes the use of coats of arms.

The Award itself is a bespoke, framed certificate hand-painted by a notable heraldic artist featuring the corporate body's arms, and is usually presented at a Heraldry Society event, creating an excellent publicity opportunity.

It should be noted that this Heraldry Society event is a discretionary award, not a competition.

Terms & Conditions of Entry are available on the Society's website.

Entry is free!

Recipients of the Award in previous years include

Bolton School	Worcester City Council	Company of Master Jewellers
Bradford College	London Borough of Waltham Forest	Royal Australian Mint
Association of British Neurologists	Abingdon-on-Thames Town Council
University of Newcastle upon Tyne	Thames Valley Police Authority
University of Calgary	Norfolk County Council

theheraldrysociety.com

